

CAP-XX Presents 2008 Sales Partner of the Year Award to Singapore's McCoy Components

Sydney, Australia – Mar 3, 2009 - Supercapacitor-maker CAP-XX Ltd (LSE:CPX) today announced that it has awarded McCoy Components Pte Ltd in Singapore its 2008 Sales Partner of the Year Award. This award recognizes both the sales volumes for CAP-XX products achieved by a business partner over the period, as well as the sales growth achieved year on year.

"We are delighted to present this award to McCoy," said CAP-XX vice president of sales and marketing, Peter Buckle. "Their team has delivered outstanding results in the past year, and has a solid pipeline of exciting opportunities to build on in the future. Our partnership with McCoy is vital to our continued success in the ASEAN region."

"Despite the recent turmoil in electronics markets, both companies continue to invest in the growth of this relationship, and we feel confident that we are well-positioned for better times ahead," said Mr Buckle. "We thank McCoy for their commitment and dedication to growing with CAP-XX in Asia."

About CAP-XX:

CAP-XX is a world leader in thin, flat supercapacitors for space-constrained electronic devices. The company's prismatic supercapacitors offer industry-leading performance, with exceptional energy and power density, high cell voltage and a wide operating temperature range.

Supercapacitors resolve the performance limitations of batteries and other current-limited power supplies, bridging the gap between the peak power demanded by the load and that available from the source, and provide backup power if the primary power source fails. CAP-XX supercapacitors enable manufacturers to make smaller, thinner, longer-running and more feature-rich devices such as camera phones, SSDs, PDAs, wireless sensors and medical devices. The company is listed on the Alternative Investment Market (AIM) in London and is based in Sydney, Australia with sales offices in the UK and USA.
